There are perfumes, lotions, and body washes the have these chemicals. These are made to attract the opposite gender. They work by giving you more of the scent that makes you attractive. Putting them on you are said to be more noticeable or more friendly.

The main component that allows for mate selection seems to lie in the evolutionary dependence on the kinds to keep on. There is no doubt that in animal species, the robust is chosen in order to carry on the reproduction process because it is likely they'd generate strong or stronger offspring. Weak members will never be picked in the animal kingdom because of the need to make it through. If weak members had been chosen to procreate, chances are their children would be weak as well, possibly not really surviving into their adult years thus this would finish the species.
